CITY BAND ASKS FOR CIVIC AID

Revenues Practically Nil And Instruments In Need Of Repairs Or Replacement

Owing to the regular night of meeting falling on Thanksgiving Day, the City Council met on Tuesday night, with all the members in attendance. Mr. H. W. Kirk, band leader, and Mr. Horace Cramp appeared as a deputation on behalf of the Orchard City Band to submit the need of that organization for a modest measure of civic aid, as it had not been provided with the usual grant this year. Mr. Kirk stated that it was very difficult for the band to carry on with almost an entire lack of revenue. The money earned by four engagements amounted to $95, which had been distributed to the members. Six concerts had been given in the City Park during the season, at which collections were taken, but only a total of $11.62 was realized, while expenses had been incurred of rent, $36.00, music $16.00, repairs to instruments, etc., $7.70, and wood $5.50. Including himself, the band numbered sixteen members. Thirty-two rehearsals had been held during the year, at which the average attendance was eleven. The bandmen showed keen interest and were striving to make the Orchard City Band worthy of the community. They were anxious to do anything in their power for the public good and would give their services in aid of any relief measures. They had given one concert at the Hospital and twelve Saturday night serenades in the business quarter and were contributing freely of their time. He reckoned that at least $300 would be required to put everything in good financial shape, but the band would be grateful for anything the Council could do. The men were citizens and appreciated the difficult financial circumstances that confronted the City.

In reply, Mayor Rattenbury said the Council appreciated what Mr. Kirk had done for the band and he congratulated him on his presentation of the case, but he could not hold out much encouragement of any financial assistance, as no provision had been made for the band in the estimates this year. However, the Council would give careful consideration to the matter.

The deputation thanked the Council and withdrew.

Unemployed Object To Proposed Quarters

Another deputation arrived forthwith in the Council Chamber, consisting of three representatives of unemployed men living in the "jungle" north of the city limits. The spokesman, who presented his case quietly and without heat, asked the Council for a reply to the following resolution, already submitted, which had been passed at a meeting of "jungle" residents held on Saturday, October 3rd:

"We, the unemployed occupants of the jungles in the north end of the City of Kelowna, do unanimously pass the following resolution in connection with the proposed future accommodations to be provided to us:

"We object to being compelled to go into the Exhibition Building owing to the fact that it savours of the soup lines that have been adopted elsewhere, and will without question develop into an insanitary condition after continued residence.

"We also object to the jungles bit can see fit to choose between the one and the other.

"Therefore, we propose that the authorities provide us with separate accommodations in rooming houses (with no more than two men to each room) and a sufficient amount of groceries to keep us in fit condition until such time as the authorities are in a position to provide us with work."

The Mayor explained to the men that the City Young, who states that the matter as it was entirely in the hands of the Provincial Government, and if the Exhibition Building was occupied, it would be within the control of the Government. Any protest the men desired to make should be made to the local Government Agent.

In this connection, a letter from Mr. P. Walker, Deputy Provincial Secretary, to Dr. C. W. Dickson, Government Sub-Agent, was laid before the Council, from which the following passages were quoted:

"I understand from the Public Works Department that quarters are being arranged for at Kelowna for these men, but I do not think there need be the least apprehension on any one's part as to the question of health or disorder. I have discussed the matter with Dr. Young, who states that a representative of the Board of Health at Kelowna every care will be taken to see that health is safeguarded. Means will be adopted to remove any menace that may exist by way of uncleanness or disease on the part of any of the men who may be accommodated in the proposed building, and in the matter of disorder, unquestionably some one will be placed in authority to prevent any disturbance. The authorities are doing their utmost to protect the men from any danger to health, and Dr. Young assures me that there need be no fear on the part of the men in this respect. Any complaints will receive prompt attention at the hands of the Board of Health's representative in Kelowna."

OIL WELL OVER TWO THOUSAND FEET

Drilling Slowed Up By Depth And Hardness Of Formation

The two thousand foot mark has been passed in Kelowna Oil Well No. 1, a depth of 2,007 feet having been attained last night. The formation, which is a dark grey shale, is very hard, and this fact, together with the depth, has slowed up the speed of drilling, but the work is proceeding very satisfactorily.

In similar formations, in other oil fields, production has been reached with little preliminary warning, and the greatest care is being taken here to avoid the risk of fire, in the event of a sudden outburst of oil or gas. Indications all point to the shale now encountered being a cap to the productive strata, and the usual experience elsewhere is that great pressure is released as soon as the capping is pierced, sometimes with dire results to derricks and drilling equipment.

From now on drilling at the Kelowna well will be carried on with as much caution as is consistent with making progress, and the work will be followed with intense interest throughout the Okanagan, being the first real effort made to test the petroliferous possibilities of the valley.

Council was Mr. O. St. P. Aitkens, manager of the Okanagan Loan & Investment Trust Co., who submitted several proposals to supply securities for the requirements of the sinking funds of the City. He pointed out that the present was a favourable time to purchase, as bonds were rising in value daily.

The Mayor replied that it would not be possible to tell until after October 19th, the last day for receipt of taxes without added penalty, how much money would be available for the purchase of bonds for the sinking funds, but he offers made would receive due consideration.

Report On Conventions

The City Clerk gave a brief report upon the annual conventions of the League of B. C. and the Union of B. C. Municipalities, at New Westminster, which he attended as official delegate representing the City, and of the Municipal Officers' Association, and submitted copies of resolutions passed.

Sale Of Lot

A resolution of sympathy with the wife and family of the late ex-Mayor D. W. Sutherland was passed, and the City Clerk was instructed to forward a suitable letter of condolence.

Federal Responsibility For Unemployment Relief

The Municipal Clerk of Burnaby forwarded for the information of the Kelowna Council the following resolution passed by his Council:

"We believe the entire labour costs to be borne by the Federal Government, for the following reasons:

"1. Unemployment is a national problem and bears with unequal hardship in different parts of Canada, and only the Federal Government can equalize this hardship.

"2. Unemployment imposes greater hardship upon the poor than upon the rich, and only the Federal Government has adequate means of taxation to equalize this hardship."

The expressions of opinion in the resolution seemed to favour the resolution of the Council, but no action was taken in regard to it.

Claim For Compensation

A claim for compensation for personal injuries and damage to his motorcycle through collision with a manhole cover on Bernard Avenue, up to which it was alleged, the road bed had not been graded during roadmaking operations, was made on behalf of Mr. R. Kitch, of Rutland, by Mr. T. G. Norris, solicitor, who stated in his letter that his client had been seriously injured, had incurred hospital and doctor bills to the amount of $50, was under doctor's care for a month and had lost his position, which would have ensured him steady work until Nov. 15th at least. Mr. Norris had been instructed to sue, but he had advised his client to permit him to ask the City to make a settlement.

The letter was referred to the City Solicitor.

Veterans' Tag Day

Permission was granted, upon the application of Mr. David Addy, Secretary, Kelowna Branch, Canadian Legion, to hold the annual tag day for the sale of poppies on Saturday, November 7th.

Milk Tests

A report was submitted from Dr. G. A. Ootmar, Milk Inspector, showing the results of fifteen tests of milk for butter-fat during September, samples being taken from three local dairies. The highest test for ordinary milk was 4.05 per cent and for special, 4.3 per cent. The lowest test was 3.5 per cent, which is the minimum government standard.

Grant To Boy Scout Association

ATTRACTIVE WINDOWS FOR B. C. WEEK

Prizes Awarded By Retail Merchants Bureau For Best Displays Of B. C. Products

Many attractive window displays were on exhibition in the city during B. C. Products Week, October 3rd to 10th, when the wide range of goods produced in this province were brought to the fore. This campaign should have the desired effect of stimulating the sale of B. C. products not only in Kelowna but in all sections of British Columbia.

The judges for the special window displays, Messrs. F. M. Black and J. H. Broad, had no easy task to perform in awarding the prizes donated by the Retail Merchants Bureau of the Board of Trade. Awards were made as follows: For the best display of farm and orchard produce, Lock Grocery Company; for the best display of goods manufactured in B. C., J. B. Knowles (this display consisted of canned goods manufactured by the Rutland Cannery); Holmes & Gordon, Ltd., who exhibited thirty-five different articles made in B. C., received special mention in the class. The most attractive window display, irrespective of the class of article, was awarded to the Morrison Hardware Co., Limited.

LAST HONOURS PAID TO LATE D. W. SUTHERLAND

Great Gathering Assembles At Final Rites At Church And Cemetery

Kelowna paid last tribute to a leading and beloved citizen on Thursday afternoon last, when residents of the city turned out in countless numbers to pay respect to the late Mr. D. W. Sutherland, for seventeen terms Mayor of Kelowna and one of the pioneers of the Okanagan Valley, who died here on Sunday, October 4th, at the age of 66 years. It was possibly the largest funeral ever held in this city, with many sections of the deceased from other parts of the Interior in attendance. Kelowna school children turned out in a body to pay homage to the first teacher of the Orchard City, lining each side of Bernard Avenue between Richter and St. Paul Streets, where they stood at attention as the hearse proceeded to First United Church, where the funeral service was held. The Masonic Order, of which Mr. Sutherland was a prominent member, was represented by a large number from the local lodge and interior lodges, including the Junior Grand Warden of the Grand Lodge of B. C., Mr. Geo. L. Cassidy. Among the local organizations represented were the Canadian Club, Order of the Eastern Star and the Kelowna Liberal Association. Civic employees attended in a body.

Prior to the public service in United Church, a private service was held at the family residence, Rev. A. K. McMinn, assisted by Ven. Archdeacon Greene, conducting at both services. Long before the public service began the United Church was filled to capacity, the overflow being privileged to listen in through the medium of CKO V, which broadcasted the service. Ramsay MacDonald joined with Stanley Baldwin today in regretting the loss of the late Sir Herbert Samuel, the Premier wrote, "to put national needs first."

Capt. Graham replied that, had Sir Herbert shown himself to be unwaveringly anti-Socialist, there would have been no opposition to him.

Viscount Brentford joined in criticism of Sir Herbert. "I knew Sir Herbert Samuel well," he said. "I had a public debate with him on tariffs, and I then learned that nothing would divert him from free trade. Are we to allow this man to go in and smash up the new government?"

Rev. Mr. McMinn chose for his text, "Greater is he that serves." Referring to the long and useful public career of Daniel Wilbur Sutherland, the minister paid a glowing tribute to his personal sacrifices made in the interests of Kelowna, to the unselfishness of the man, to his strong character, to his worth as a citizen. Greater indeed was he that served. Prayer was offered by Ven. Archdeacon Greene and selected hymns were solemnly rendered by the choir.

The procession to the Kelowna Cemetery, where last rites at the graveside were conducted by the Masonic Order, extended about half a mile. The impressive Masonic service was read by Right Worshipful J. F. Burns.

After the service, the body of the late Mr. Sutherland was conveyed to his grave by Messrs. Henry Burch, George McKenzie, G. A. McKay, J. Leathley, Dr. W. J. Knox and Dr. J. W. N. Shepherd, all past masters of the lodge. The profuse floral tributes, which came from all parts of the province, were taken to the cemetery in a truck.

and that payment of the 1931 grant of $250 would be appreciated so as to enable the Association to meet the taxes. It was decided to waive the usual rule that payment of grants must await receipt of city taxes and to pay over the grant forthwith.

In order to go into committee over several matters, the Council then formally adjourned until Monday, October 26th, the session lasting eventually until 11.15 p.m.

OKANAGAN VALLEY TEACHERS' CONVENTION

Programme Contains Something For Every Grade Of Teacher

As announced in last week's issue, the annual convention of the Okanagan Valley Teachers' Association will be held at Penticton on Thursday and Friday next, October 22nd and 23rd.

In addition to the speakers already announced, Dr. Francis R. Powers, of the Department of Education at Washington University, has been secured to give an address on Friday afternoon, when it is expected that a number of teachers from south of the border will attend.

The programme contains something special for every grade of teacher and arrangements have been made for a goodly number of inspirational addresses for the general assemblies in addition to the talks at the group meetings. A large attendance is expected this year, with teachers from as far west as Blaine, east to Greenwood and south to Omak, Washington.

EASTSIDE ROAD WILL EMPLOY FIVE HUNDRED

To Distribute Relief, Men On Provincial Work Projects Will Be Rotated

VICTORIA, Oct. 15.—The Provincial Government announces that the Naramata road is to be completed at once between Kelowna and Penticton, and will provide employment for five hundred men idle in the Okanagan. Reports before the Government show that numbers of men are without work in that area, and they would have to be cared for in any event.

With the exception of northern points, where winter snows will make road work impossible, the Government intends shortly to rotate men at work on provincial projects, particularly transients, to distribute this form of relief and to curtail within reasonable expenditure the emergency undertakings announced by Hon. R. W. Bruhn, Minister of Public Works.

The revised British Columbia programme has been mailed to Ottawa for approval, and meanwhile, states Mr. Bruhn, there is nothing to stop cities and towns that have a portion of their projects approved in proceeding with these works.

BRITISH EFFORTS TO AVOID SPLIT VOTE

Conservative Refuses To Withdraw In Favour Of Sir Herbert Samuel

LONDON, Oct. 15.—Nomination day is tomorrow and right up to its eve efforts are being continued all over the country to avoid having two government candidates appearing in the same division.

Capt. Alan Graham, Conservative opponent to Sir Herbert Samuel, however, declined today to stand down and relinquish the fight in Darwen.

Ramsay MacDonald joined with Stanley Baldwin today in regretting the loss of the late Sir Herbert Samuel, the Premier wrote, "to put national needs first."

Capt. Graham replied that, had Sir Herbert shown himself to be unwaveringly anti-Socialist, there would have been no opposition to him.

Viscount Brentford joined in criticism of Sir Herbert. "I knew Sir Herbert Samuel well," he said. "I had a public debate with him on tariffs, and I then learned that nothing would divert him from free trade. Are we to allow this man to go in and smash up the new government?"

CANADA SHOULD ABANDON GOLD STANDARD

Canadian Club Hears Lucid Exposition Of Economic Problems Of The Day By Mr. B. K. Sandwell

That Canada should abandon the gold standard was the message brought to members of the Canadian Club by Mr. B. K. Sandwell, B.A., of Montreal, former Assistant Professor of Economics at McGill University and noted lecturer and writer, who delivered a masterly address at the annual meeting of the Club in the Royal Anne Hotel on Wednesday evening of last week. The large dining room of the hotel was filled to capacity by members and lady guests, who listened attentively to the enlightening lecture on the economic problems of the day.

Large Membership

Following an excellent dinner, the business of the annual meeting was handled with dispatch. President F. M. Black, who occupied the chair, called upon the Secretary, Mr. A. J. Cameron, to read his annual report on the year's activities. This report, which was adopted, revealed that the membership of the Club now totalled one hundred and thirteen. Mr. Black also addressed the schools during the year, and it was now customary to invite each speaker to do so. With the co-operation of the Rotary Club, they had initiated this year observance of Dominion Day in Kelowna, and the movement had been successful.

The financial statement, audited by Mr. B. Cleverly, C.A., who was elected Honorary Auditor for 1931-32, was read by the Secretary and approved. It showed a balance on hand of $31.21.

Honour For Archdeacon Greene

It was moved by Mr. O. St. P. Aitkens and Mr. H. F. Chapin that Ven. Archdeacon Greene be elected an Honorary Vice-President of this Club for life as a slight token of the Club's appreciation of the services he has rendered to this community during many years. The motion was heartily endorsed by the assembly.

Archdeacon Greene said, in responding, that high honour had been bestowed upon him. He hoped that he would not disgrace the country of his birth or the country of his adoption.

The next resolution, moved by Messrs. W. E. Adams and J. Brydon and carried, was "that the resignations from the executive of Messrs. N. D. McTavish and H. B. D. Lyons be accepted and that they be thanked for their services to the Club."

Tribute To Late D. W. Sutherland

Moved by Dr. J. W. N. Shepherd and Mr. J. Leathley, "that this Club record its sorrow at the passing of the late ex-Mayor D. W. Sutherland, its appreciation of his services to the community and in the formation of this Club, and that the Secretary be asked to forward to the bereaved family an expression of our sympathy with them in their sudden and severe loss."

Mr. Black remarked that the late Mr. Sutherland had worked hard to bring into being the Canadian Club, and it was he who took the initial steps in formation. He asked the assembly to stand in silent tribute.

Appointments To Executive

On motion by Messrs. G. A. McKay and J. B. Spurrier, the following were elected to the executive to fill the existing vacancies: Messrs. W. A. C. Bennett, W. Carruthers and C. J. Fraser.

The next resolution, moved by Messrs. Chapin and R. Gordon, was as follows: "That the term of Mr. F. M. Black as President having expired, Mr. E. C. Weddell, Vice-President, be appointed in his stead, and that Mr. W. M. Fraser, a member of the executive, be appointed Vice-President in place of Mr. Weddell." Carried.

"That the thanks of the Club be tendered to Mr. A. J. Cameron for his valuable services during the year 1930-31 as Honorary Secretary, and that he, having agreed to continue in that office for a period, be confirmed therein." This was moved by Messrs. R. Whillis and A. M. Hodgins, and carried. Mr. Black remarking that it had been a pleasure indeed to work with Mr. Cameron, whose unfailing courtesy and attention to detail was noteworthy.

Moved by Messrs. T. R. Hall and R. W. Corner, "that the resolution of the executive be approved, viz.: 'That visitors from out of town, ladies and young people accompanying Club members, be welcomed to its public meetings.'" Carried.

The President remarked that the membership of the Club was steadily increasing. The Central Executive was sending out good speakers, and every member should give his wholehearted support to the Club by regular attendance and by inducing others to join the organization.

The following were proposed for membership and subsequently elected: Messrs. C. Walker, Kenneth Shepherd, W. H. Sharpe and W. G. Scott.

Appreciation Of Retiring President

Mr. J. Ball extended sincere thanks to the retiring President for his indefatigable work on behalf of the Club. Its prosperity was due largely to his foresight and watchfulness.

Mr. Weddell, the newly elected President, who did not take the chair that evening, was heartily in accord with Mr. Ball. He regretted the fact that the Club was losing Mr. Black as its President and also that Kelowna was to lose him as a citizen. Mr. Weddell

WHOLE FAMILY SEE HUGE "FISH"

Mysterious Creature Believed By Witnesses To Be Ogopogo

Yesterday morning, when Mr. and Mrs. O. Jenkins and family were at breakfast in their home on Vimy Avenue, near the lakeshore, where a clear view of Okanagan Lake is obtainable, they were startled by the sudden appearance of a huge eel-like fish, which sped through the water at a rapid rate about fifty feet from shore. They are of the firm opinion that the huge object, which they judged was about twenty feet in length, was none other than Ogopogo, famed sea serpent of the Okanagan.

The mammoth denizen of the lake had a large animal-like head and large fins, which were clearly visible, as its observers watched it submerge and reappear again several times. Its head, tail and back were dark in hue, but it was in range for close study as it sped southwards down the lake. Mr. Jenkins rushed for his camera to obtain tangible evidence of the existence of Ogopogo, but could not produce it in time to take a picture.

Even the most sceptical are forced to admit there is a mysterious presence in Okanagan Lake when a family of eight get a clear-cut view of the aquatic phenomenon—and all see the same thing.

had served under Mr. Black on the executive, and he knew how conscientiously, earnestly and vigilantly he had performed the duties of office. His retirement left the incoming President "big shoes to fill," and he hoped that the departure of Mr. and Mrs. Black would not be permanent. The best wishes of the Club went with them, but "Will ye no come back again?" (Applause.)

Responding briefly, Mr. Black thanked the members for their kind words and the support he had received while in office. It had been a real pleasure to work for the Canadian Club and to watch it grow. He would leave Kelowna with a certain measure of regret. His stay had not always been pleasant, but he loved the city.

Introducing the speaker of the evening, Mr. Black said that he would not detail all his titles. It was sufficient to say that they were to enjoy that evening one of the finest treats ever offered. He had driven Mr. and Mrs. Sandwell around the district in the afternoon and they had been delighted with the country so much so they had decided whether they would have six or seven rooms in their house!

Mr. Sandwell

In his opening remarks Mr. Sandwell congratulated the Kelowna Canadian Club on its splendid showing since its inauguration. When he returned to Ottawa, he said, he would report on this Club, which did practical things and which was a force in the community.

Mr. Sandwell declared that his hearers were about to listen to an address on a very dry subject—the subject of money, the appeal of which did not require explanation. He would take of currency, the gold standard, the depression, war debts, etc., but did the people of Kelowna admit there was a depression? There was no delusion about it in the east, but when he first came west he thought he should enquire of those optimistic people if such a thing existed. Most people admitted there was something like that prevalent, after which he would proceed to go into the causes. This was to be an economic lecture. He had pursued the study of economics for the past thirty years, but many people thought it a very dry subject, even in practice.

Canadian Dollar Worth What Government Likes To Make It

The reason why the subject of money should be brought to the attention of the people at this time was that the Canadian dollar was now worth what the government liked to make it. The government, the servant of the people, had to listen to the views of its electors, and it was imperative that their views should be correct. As long as the value of the Canadian dollar was 22.32 grains of pure gold things were all right, but it was no longer so and it would be some considerable time before it was again worth that much. Meanwhile, the dollar could become what the people wanted it to become, and they should have some idea of the unit desirable.

How Money Works

Economy, said Mr. Sandwell, was not an exact science but a science of sorts. Many professors tried to make it unintelligible, but he, as an ex-professor, could be freer in his manner of dealing with it. He proposed to tell how money worked and why the unit had a particular value at any particular time. Referring to commodity price levels during the past sixty years, he declared that from Confederation to 1896 prices continually declined. The value of the unit of money increased and had greater buying power. In 1895 and 1896 the whole world was restive in the decline in prices and the rise in currency. In the United States the proposal was made for raising prices by increasing the supply of money.

The need for gold had increased more rapidly than the supply of money, and the scheme was put forward that the money supply should be increased by making sixteen ounces of silver equivalent to one ounce of gold. This would have relieved the situation at the time, but it was fortunate that the proposal was not adopted because in 1897 more and more commodities broke down and the whole system got out of gear. Today price levels were less than seventy per cent of those of 1928.

The World Gold Supply Totals $11,000,000,000

Going into the reasons for our economic ills, Mr. Sandwell said that the world's gold supply amounted to $11,000,000,000, not much when the enormous amount of business transacted was considered. In 1922 the United States had only two billions. Britain had about the same amount and the rest was scattered throughout the world. A month ago, when he started on his lecture tour, he urged abandonment of the gold standard in Canada. Downing Street must have heard of it.

SHIPPERS' SPLIT MAY NOT BE PERMANENT

Committee Of Council Extends Invitation To Associated Growers To Attend

Although the Associated Growers resigned from the Shippers' Council two weeks ago, recent developments indicate that the split may not be a permanent one. Last week a committee of the Council met Mr. E. J. Chambers, President of the Associated, in Vernon, and invited him to attend a meeting of the Council held here yesterday in the Royal Anne Hotel. While Mr. Chambers was in Kelowna on business yesterday, he was unable to attend, but it is highly probable that the co-operative organization will be represented at the regular meeting in Vernon next week.

It has been announced by Mr. J. A. Grant, of the Markets Information Bureau, Vernon, that an additional service will be furnished valley shippers and growers. Besides the usual bulletin now being issued, another daily bulletin will be sent out reviewing market conditions on the prairies. This is to be made possible through the co-operation of the various Dominion government agricultural offices, which will keep the Markets Bureau informed by wire of conditions day by day. This information will be compiled at Vernon and issued to subscribers of the service as well as to government agricultural offices in the valley.

LABOUR OPPOSES UNEMPLOYMENT INSURANCE

VANCOUVER, Oct. 15.—The American Federation of Labour in annual convention here went on record today as opposed to compulsory unemployment insurance.

SPANISH REPUBLICANS SPLIT OVER CHURCH

MADRID, Oct. 15.—A new revolution loomed today with the resignation of President Zamora and four of his ministers in protest against the anti-Catholic regulations. Manuel Azana, Minister for War, has formed a new cabinet.

Senator Maura, who resigned as Minister for the Interior, declares he will lead the Catholics in a fight against the constitution.

Martial law has been declared in many centres. The Catholic Agrarian party threatens to withdraw from the National Assembly.

JAPAN OBJECTS TO U.S. BUTTING-IN AT GENEVA

TOKIO, Oct. 15.—The Japanese Foreign Office today instructed the Japanese delegation to Geneva to use every effort to see that the proposal be dropped for including a United States representative in the League of Nations Council during discussion of the Sino-Japanese trouble. The proposal caused a sensation at the Foreign Ministry.

UNNAMED COLT SPOTTED AS NEXT DERBY WINNER

NEWMARKET, England, Oct. 15.—W. H. G. Singer's unnamed colt by Gainsborough out of Golden Hair won the Middle Park stakes here today, clinching the position of leading challenger for the Epsom Derby next year. Leaning Dale—was second and Short Hand third.

perfect the work of money at any given time, and a decrease in the supply of units had a tendency to reduce prices. During the years prior to 1897 the belief was general that Canada was not getting along as rapidly as a young country should, but after that date there was a definite change in her rate of progress. Political reasons were given as the cause, but the fact that Canada was a young and borrowing country had more to do with it than a change of government. The speaker had no faith in the power of governments in that respect unless "suicidal idiocy" was practised. The gold supply increased until the end of the war, and the last year of the conflict and the year after the world had the spectacle of a disproportionate rise in prices based on larger amounts of credit money. The peak of prices in 1919 and 1920 were not legitimate gold prices, and the high level collapsed in 1920. From 1922 to 1928 price levels were definitely stable—as stable as monetary mechanism could make them. In 1928 wheat broke down in price and gave warning that the level of those years could not be maintained, but we continued to speculate until 1929, more and more commodities broke down and the whole system got out of gear. Today price levels were less than seventy per cent of those of 1928.

The date for the Patrol Leaders' Convention at Salmon Arm has now been definitely settled as Saturday and Sunday, the 7th and 8th of November next. The Salmon Arm Patrol Leaders are hosts for the occasion and are making great preparations. So far they know of about 30 delegates who will be present. They have been disappointed in one respect, however, and that is that up to the present no other troop in the district has sent in any suggested topics for discussion. Scout Executive Crompton of North Central Washington will most likely be present with one or two of his American Patrol Leaders.

The next Boy Scout World Jam-boree will be held in 1933, at Goddolo, a town about fifteen miles from Budapest, in Hungary. These World Jam-borees are held every four years, the last one, as everyone knows, being held at Arrowe Park, Birkenhead, England, in 1929.

We clipped the following news item from a recent issue of the Vancouver Daily Province:—

SCIENTIFIC METHODS INCREASE CROP YIELDS

(Experimental Farms Note)

The production of larger crop yields is one of the most urgent farm problems. Unless improved methods are adopted, yields decline to such an extent that profitable farming becomes impossible. Scientific investigation work is imperative in order to learn new and improved methods.

In order to indicate what yields may be expected under suitable conditions,

THOMAS ALVA EDISON

Thomas Alva Edison, world-famous inventor, who is reported near death, his health having failed gradually of late.

the average yields of farm crops are given on the Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa. These yields have been obtained on large field areas. They are compared over the same period of years with the average yields throughout the province of Ontario.

While corn silage has yielded 16.0 tons per acre on the Experimental Farm, the average yield in Ontario has been only 9.38 tons. Oats have yielded 58.8 bushels at Ottawa as compared with the average Ontario yield of 35.1 bushels. Hay has given the exceptionally good yield of 3.53 tons per acre on the Experimental Farm as compared with 1.52 tons in Ontario. Potatoes gave 207.7 bushels per acre at Ottawa, while throughout the province there was produced only 107.7 bushels. Other crops have yielded proportionately.

But, it might be said that the costs of production on the Experimental Farm are greater than on the average farm. Undoubtedly this is true but they are not proportionately greater. Many items are no higher even with heavier yields. Thus the charges for rent or the use of the land, the costs of ploughing, seeding and harvesting remain very much the same. How, then, may larger yields be obtained?

Larger yields may be obtained by following the most scientific methods. The use of suitable crop rotations, thorough cultivation, good seed, proper drainage, adequate manure or fertilizers and the effective control of weeds, insects and fungous diseases all play important parts in increasing crop yields.

The fertility of the soil becomes very much reduced when proper rotations are not adopted and where manure or commercial fertilizers are either improperly used or used in insufficient quantities. There is every probability that a considerable extension in the use of commercial fertilizers will develop in the next few years. But the intelligent use of these materials requires the most careful study and should be supported by very exact scientific research. In an experiment conducted over a period of eighteen years on the Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa, commercial fertilizers have given an increase in crop yields over untreated land which, after deducting the cost of the fertilizers, was worth $8.47 per acre. However, in order to get the most profitable response, it is necessary to study the nutritional requirements of various crops, the most suitable rate and time of application, as well as the kind of fertilizer to apply.

Recent experimental work indicates a tremendous difference in the response from fertilizers, depending entirely upon the method of application. Twenty per cent increased yield of barley was obtained in one experiment when fertilizers were applied with the seed as compared with broadcast application. However, this method sometimes injures the germination, indicating the desirability of applying some fertilizers as close as possible but not in contact with the seed, particularly when heavy dressings are used. The recent introduction of high analysis fertilizers makes still more necessary the thorough investigation of the problem.

When it is considered that all educational work in agriculture, whether it be in the form of extension courses, schools, colleges, or individual self-instruction, is based on the results of experimental work, the imperative need of agricultural research is clearly evident. Canada is essentially an agricultural country, producing farm crops in competition with the world. It is obvious that the most scientific methods must be developed in order to produce

DRINK MORE MILK

Here are just a few of the reasons why milk is such an important article in the diet of old and young alike.

Milk is the best food in the world. Women need milk to keep them healthy and to preserve their beauty. Men need milk to ward off the dangers and decline of middle age. Milk is the enemy of middle age. It strengthens the nerves and supplies essential vitamins. The food value of one quart of milk is equal to:

Nearly one pound of lean meat;
Nine or ten eggs;
More than one pound of chicken;
Nearly two pounds of fish.
The vitamins supplied in milk are: Vitamine "A," necessary to the promotion of growth and in bone building; Vitamine "B," providing against nervous disorders; and Vitamine "C," necessary for healthy development and for maintaining health.

Milk is not fattening. Taken by itself, not gulped nor taken with food, it gives health and vitality without adding an ounce to waste tissue.

Drinking milk freely every day is one of the best ways in which to build up and maintain both physical and nervous energy.

The woman who drinks milk looks and feels younger than one of the same age who does not, at the same time by drinking milk she is physically more attractive as it enables her to remain slim and supple.

The man in his forties who drinks milk has a sense of being fit, and clear headed, his mental keenness is greater, his muscles are more elastic, and he can do more and better work with less fatigue.

Don't neglect the milky way to health. Drink more milk.

larger crop yields of improved quality and to produce this by the most economical methods possible.

CANADIAN VETERAN OF U.S. CIVIL WAR

Probably Canada's last surviving link with the American civil war of 1861, Howard Williams, 90-year-old resident of Toronto, is still hale and hearty, and recalls vividly the spirit of '61. Enlisting as a private, he was later given a commission by Gen. Alexander.

OKANAGAN MISSION

Last Sunday the Harvest Festival was celebrated at St. Andrew's Church, services being held at 11 a.m. and 3 p.m. The decorations were very lovely, this season being perhaps the best of the year for producing beautiful colour effects, and the ladies of the Guild certainly made the most of their material. The bunches of grapes among the golden red leaves were especially beautiful and it looked as though the Hospital would receive a bountiful offering this year. In the afternoon Mr. Davis brought out some of St. Michael's Choir and we had a musical service which was listened to with great pleasure by all present. The collection was for the benefit of St. Michael and All Angels' Choir fund.

During the singing of one of the hymns the younger children brought their special offerings and placed them in the chancel.

The following letter was received from Mrs. Macchellan, Superintendent of the Women's Institutes Branch of the Department of Agriculture, Victoria, B.C.

"The Canadian Products group of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce have kindly arranged for a competition among our members, details of which are as follows:—

"Three prizes are offered for the best essays on the subject: 'Why I should buy Canadian Products.' The prizes are: First prize: a beautiful silver rose bowl, suitably engraved, designed and made in British Columbia from B. C. silver. Kindly given by His Honour J. W. Fordham Johnson, Lt.-Governor of British Columbia. Second prize: A silver salver manufactured and presented by Mr. W. M. Carmichael, silversmith, of Victoria. Third prize: B.C. Products to the value of $10.00, given by the Canadian Products Group.

"The essay must not be more than 100 words. The prizes will be awarded solely for clearness and originality of ideas and not necessarily for correct spelling and composition, it being the desire of the Canadian Products Group that every Women's Institute member enter for this competition. The essays must be addressed to 'The Essay-Committee, Victoria Chamber of Commerce, Victoria, B.C.' on or before December 12th, 1931.

"The Canadian Products Group will appoint the judges, whose decision will be final. The Canadian Products Group reserves the privilege of using any essay of sufficient merit in their publicity campaigns should they desire to do so.

"The B.C. Women's Institutes lead the Province in their practical work to stimulate the purchase of Canadian made goods, and it is hoped that every Institute will be well represented in this competition.

"Enclosed is a pamphlet to set you thinking along the right lines."

On Thursday, October 8th, the officers of the B.C. Dragoons met at the Eldorado Arms for their annual gathering. A business meeting was held in the morning among the officers, after which luncheon was served. The whole party then repaired to the Eldorado Ranch, where they took part in a paper chase which afforded much entertainment to everybody, the weather being ideal for the purpose. In the evening dinner was served for the officers and their wives at the Hotel, and the usual dance followed, Symonds' orchestra supplying the music. Supper was served at 11 p.m. and the dancing was kept up with great vigour to a late hour, when the guests dispersed after a thoroughly enjoyable day.

Mrs. Wansbrough Jones is at present staying at Benboulton with Mr. and Miss Metcalfe.

ANOTHER OPEN LETTER

To the Fruit Growers of the Interior of B. C.

Kelowna, B.C.,
October 9th, 1931.

Referring to the report of the meeting of the Shippers' Council on October 7th, which appeared in "The Kelowna Courier" on the following day under the heading "Jonathan bulk selling at $20.00 a ton," there are some facts which should also receive publicity if the growers are to judge correctly regarding the "Bulk McIntosh Deal."

This Company admits and very much regrets its Manager's method of procedure. There is no doubt he might have done better to have adopted Mr. E. J. Chambers' attitude, who, when he found that his resolution, "that all bulk in all varieties and large McIntosh apple prices be open until October 15th," was only supported by his second, Mr. Staples of Sales Service, said: "Accept the resignation of the Associated Growers from the Shippers' Council, effective this morning." This information was printed on the front page of "The Vernon News" of October 8th, as was also the following paragraph:

"Saying that the action of the Crown Fruit Co. had done damage, that bootlegging growers had done even more, but that the action of the Associated Growers was the crowning blow of all. Major M. V. McGuire, Vernon, suggested that the Shippers' Council disband. The action by the Associated, he said, resulted in first setting a price of $25 a ton on bulk shipments and within two days after they failed to impose their will on the Council they had broken the price to $20 and maybe to $17."

This Company is a growers' organization, the members of which formerly shipped their fruit through the Associated Growers. Their opinions are shared by others. "The Manitoba Free Press" says: "When the apples are

Eph. 1: 1-12. Eph. 1: 13-end. Eph. 2: 4-10. Eph. 4: 1-13. Phil. 1: 18-22. I. Thess. 5: 12-end. I. Tim. 2: 1-end. Paul wrote to the Ephesians: "There is one body, and one Spirit, even as also we were called in one hope of your calling; one Lord, one faith, one baptism, one God and Father of all, who is over all, and through all and in all." This description of the omnipresence of God is so complete that all believers should accept it. If Spirit is everywhere, in everything, and through everything, why the widespread search for God? The answer is that men have not recognized God as omnipresent Spirit. They have imagined God to be merely an enlarged man, of changeable mind, sometimes angry and sometimes loving; a God who made man and then regretted that He made him. Jesus taught, "God is Spirit."

BISHOP IS TRANSLATED
Rt. Rev. John T. Kidd, who has been translated from the Roman Catholic diocese of Calgary to that of London, Ontario.

got cheaply to the prairies, the prairies eat more. This seems to be the only consideration worth talking about. But the railways, the growers, the jobbers, the packers, the wrappers, the carpenters and the printers never remember this simple fact." The Crown Fruit Company holds that the major interests here mentioned are those of the growers and consumers. The Directors believe that existing market conditions justified their Manager's view that the widest distribution and best returns to the grower could only be obtained by a certain amount of bulk shipment of McIntosh, particularly to Prairie points.

Our Manager did not agree with the Council's decision to exclude bulk shipments of McIntosh. He advised the Council to that effect by letter on September 18th and stated his intention to make bulk McIntosh shipments. On September 21st he wrote again, giving full details of the Company's confirmed commitments. Had he handed this Company's resignation to the Council on September 28th, instead of waiting to deliver it personally on October 7th, the situation, which was even then beyond control, might have been mitigated.

In conclusion it may be mentioned that neither the membership agreement nor the Bylaws give the Council power to prohibit bulk shipment. The Directors of this Company share Major M. V. McGuire's views, as stated above, and sincerely regret the unnecessary price-cutting now prevalent.

Submitted on behalf of the Board of The Crown Fruit Co., Ltd.
R. G. BURY, Director.

COMMERCIAL CANNING

Commercially canned products, either fruits or vegetables, have an advantage from the technical standpoint of being canned at perfect maturity and within a few hours of harvesting. At one time the canning of fruits and vegetables was almost entirely done in the home, today the modern housewife gets her winter supply of fruits from the products of the up-to-date canning factory.

The pure food laws of Canada provide that canned fruits and vegetables must be sound products made from sterilized, clean, sound, properly matured and prepared fresh fruit or vegetables by means of heat, and kept in suitable, clean containers, closed automatically or otherwise, and marked as to conform in name to the particular fruits or vegetables used in their preparation. No adulterated preservative or artificial coloring may be used in commercially canned fruits or vegetables. They may contain only pure water, sugar and salt as preservatives.

All canned products manufactured in Canada are produced under the strict supervision of the Commercial Canning Inspection Service of the Dominion Fruit Branch. Under this service four grades for quality are provided, and these are respectively: "Fancy," "Choice," "Standard" and "Second." The terms used to describe each grade indicate clearly and concisely the nature and character of the product which qualifies for the grade.

TWENTY YEARS AGO
(From the files of "The Kelowna Courier")
*****

Thursday, October 12, 1911

Mr. D. Lloyd Jones made a trip to Nelson on Saturday in order to secure a shipwright to build a new tug for the Kelowna Saw Mill Co., the "Kelowna" having been sold to Mr. S. C. Smith for use in connection with the Penticton mill of the latter. The new craft will be much the same style as the "Kelowna," but will be more powerful, so as to give greater towage capacity.

"The vocal and instrumental music of the 'Yeoman of the Guard,' the next opera to be produced by the Kelowna Musical and Dramatic Society this season, has arrived and rehearsing will commence at an early date."

"Our attention has been called to the poor state of repair of the upper trail to Penticton, of which persons connected with the survey of the Kettle Valley Railway, besides others, have to make occasional use. The trail was at one time practically the only means of communication by land between the Okanagan Mission valley and the southern Okanagan, and in former years it was kept clear of logs and bushes, but of late it has been neglected and portions of it are almost impassable. Our informant estimates that an expenditure of $200 would clear out the fallen trees and the undergrowth which has sprung up, and the outlay would seem well worth while, even with the limited amount of travel that would pass over the trail. Tourists riding through the country on horseback would no doubt make use of it, and it would give the residents of Kelowna and district access to a wide stretch of country for fishing and hunting. The grade of the trail up Mission Mountain could easily be improved in the steepest parts by switchbacking, and the trip to Penticton would make a pleasant day's excursion per cayuse."

The appointment is announced in this issue of Mr. Martin Burrell, member for Yale-Cariboo, as the Dominion electoral district then was constituted, to the portfolio of agriculture in the new Dominion cabinet, which took office upon the fall of the Laurier administration on the reciprocity issue. He had been member for the riding since 1908.

OKANAGAN CENTRE

Dr. and Mrs. D. Black, of Kelowna, were in the Centre on Tuesday the 5th, when the latter gave a most interesting talk on Korea and the Korean people before the regular meeting of the Women's Institute, at the Community Hall.

Beginning with a sketch history of the "Hermit" nation, which has only been open to intercourse with other nations since 1882, Mrs. Black told of the entering in of missionaries from both the United States and Canada; the increasing influence of Christianity on the people of every degree, who until recent years were entirely under the sway of either ancestor worship, Buddhism or Confucianism; the difficulties of womanhood under these systems, and much of the habits and customs peculiar to that people. Altogether a most informing lecture not soon to be forgotten.

At this first meeting of the autumn season a good bit of business of a more or less important nature was transacted. Miss Caesar was chosen as delegate to represent the Okanagan Centre Institute at the annual conference of South Okanagan Institutes to be held the last week in the month at Kere-meos.

The usual $5.00 was voted for the prize list of the Musical Festival to be held in Kelowna next spring.

A children's party for Halloween was arranged, Mrs. Parker to organize the entertainment and the Social Committee to provide the refreshments.

When he defeated Mr. Duncan Ross by a majority of 893.

mittee having charge of the refreshments.

The date of the next meeting was set for the first Thursday in November—a little earlier than usual but early planning for several sewing "bees" is desired before the advent of cold weather.

Mrs. Seeley, of the Westside, was the week-end guest of Mrs. Venables.

The first issue of the Okanagan Centre Echo, the Centre School magazine was printed and circulated last week.

The editorial staff is to be congratulated on a nice publication and coming as it does, with the exception of greetings from the Canadian Forestry Association and the Superintendent of High School Correspondence Courses, entirely from school pupils under the age of seventeen, it is a very creditable piece of work.

The next issue will come out the middle of December.

The finals in the mixed doubles handicap for the Thompson trophy were played at the tennis court recently, the participants being Mrs. Bond and Mr. Goldie vs. Mrs. Goldie and R. Wentworth, the first named couple coming off victorious after a close three-set match.

The residents of the north end of the district are rejoicing over a substantial improvement in the road from Eversleigh to the South Okanagan boundary. A good bit of rock work which has been needed a long time has been finished as well as several miles of surface gravelling.

PUBLICITY AS CURE FOR DEPRESSION

Leading Manufacturer Increases Business Under Difficult Conditions By Use Of Newspapers

Declaring that the strategic use of newspaper advertising has proven to be one of the most effective means for developing business under the present difficult conditions, W. K. Kellogg, chairman of the board of the Kellogg Company of Battle Creek, Mich., leading manufacturers of cereal foods, stated last week that his company expects to end the year in the strongest position in its history.

"This year has demonstrated some of the unusual virtues of newspaper advertising," said Mr. Kellogg. "We announced last fall our plans for a heavy advertising expenditure this year in which we planned to use newspapers somewhat as shock troops to concentrate our fire when and where needed. The mobility of this form of advertising has enabled us to meet the varying problems of unsettled conditions to excellent advantage. Right now we are planning new heavy drives for this fall, using a stronger concentration of space on one of our products than we have ever before used in newspapers."

"These new campaigns are the best answer I know to our opinion regarding sales possibilities at the present time. We expect to increase our volume steadily over the corresponding period of 1930 and to end the year in the strongest position we have ever enjoyed. I cannot venture a prediction regarding business conditions in general, but we do not see anything except steady gains for our own products from now on. This is particularly significant because in 1930 we enjoyed the largest volume of business in our history—reaching the high point of serving Kellogg cereals to approximately 20,000,000 people in one day. At present we are employing approximately three hundred more people than at the same time last year."

"It is a source of extreme gratification to all of us that we have not only been able to keep our sales in good condition—but to keep up our purchases of raw materials and advertising and to continue to give employment to more people than ever before in our history."

RUTLAND

As usual, the annual Thanksgiving supper, concert and dance, held in the Community Hall on Monday evening, was well attended, in spite of the much talked of "hard times," and two sittings were necessary to accommodate all the patrons for supper. After the repast an excellent programme of recitations and musical numbers was given under the supervision of Mr. Percy Hook, of Kelowna. Mr. E. Mugford ably carried out the duties of chairman. Dancing followed to music supplied by Messrs. Symonds, Dunn and Treadgold, bringing an all-round evening's enjoyment to young and old.

Following are the names of those assisting with the programme (the encores demanded were numerous, particularly for Miss Isobel Murray and Mrs. DeMara): Vocal solos, Mrs. Trenwith and Messrs. Hayward and Griffith; Scottish dances, Miss Barbara Craig; violin solos, Miss I. Murray; Readings, Mrs. DeMara.

The Women's Institute has received a bill for books missing from the travelling library that was returned to Victoria some while ago. If any resident has the books in his or her possession, the Institute would appreciate receiving them back and so avoid payment of the cost of these missing items. The books are—"Psychology of Childhood," "Torquill's Success" and "Kitchen Dictionary."

The committee in charge of assembling and shipping the car of produce to Southern Saskatchewan has commenced active canvassing and will endeavour to get the car away by Monday next, October 19th.

The injuries to Mr. Alex. Cant have unfortunately proved more serious than was first thought, slight concussion having developed, necessitating his removal to the Kelowna Hospital.

Mr. Jack Charlton had the misfortune to have his barn destroyed by fire on Friday afternoon last. A quantity of hay was lost, but Mrs. Charlton was able to remove several goats, the only live stock in the barn at the time, by removing boards from the back of the building and dragging the animals out. The cause of the fire is still unknown.

A cloth moistened with vaseline will keep the kitchen stove looking bright and new.

KELO KER'S COLUMN

(Current Comment)

Make It Snappy

Every once in a while a columnist gets out of bed the wrong way, walks sourly to the office that keeps him kicking around and jabs away furiously at his typewriter in complaint of all mankind.

This is such a morning. On this bright, fine day I become an advocate of speedier traffic—pedestrian traffic—in this troublesome fruit area.

Too often I have to stand just outside the door of the post office, longing to get in, while the girls talk over last night's party, blissfully conscious of the fact that it is not gentlemanly for a man to elbow his way through to take last month's bill out of the box. Sometimes the offender is a woman with her progeny in a baby carriage (progeny, not woman, is in carriage), and this makes a most effective blockade. And it becomes even more effective when a neighbour stops to tickle the baby under the chin and remark amiably how much it resembles its father—a downright lie because all babies look alike.

Then, when we sufferers finally do get inside, somebody has the box next to ours, and if we are not too unreasonably impatient, we wait until that person has read his correspondence, standing the while in front of his box—and ours. It is comparatively easy to bump into a male offender and hint gently that there might be mail in our box too, but it's harder to deal with the ladies. Bump into a lady and she thinks it's just another egg gone bad, and cries of "police!" rend the air.

So good for post office traffic. Now let's go out in the street on Saturday night, when only athletes find it possible to get anywhere in a hurry. Side-walks on the south side of Bernard Avenue become conference halls, with the debaters spread out over the concrete to suggest we have lots of time to get where we're going. If the city would supply chairs for these people it would be more humanitarian and flat feet would become less noticeable.

It seems we are suggesting snappier pedestrian traffic and a grain or two of consideration for the other fellow.

Gold Becomes Glitterless

Everybody is talking about the gold standard. I have failed in my duty by neglecting it so long—even though it is all as clear as mud. It is refreshing to talk learnedly of the abstruse, the only requisite being the proclivities of the parrot.

How are the Allied nations, which lost the World War by winning it, to pay a debt of twenty-two billion dollars in gold when the total supply in the universe is only eleven billions—and the credit nations have the most of that? Of the United States' five billion, half of it is idle, and France has a cool billion out of a job. If the U.S. doesn't watch out she'll be peddling gold bracelets in her five-and-ten-cent stores—and find business none too brisk.

America is realizing today that she cannot live entirely within herself and "let the rest of the world go by." If she insists on hogging everything, she'll find the Britisher has an ace or two up his sleeve in the international poker game. Like Midas, what she touches turns to gold, but too much of that metal hoarded in one country has its inconveniences. She may yet face the necessity of cancelling the war debt of Europe and of financial reconstruction with the possible advent of bi-metalism. And who doesn't like to see the silk hat skimmed from a financial overlord?

Today the Canadian dollar is not worth 22.32 grains of pure gold, normal valuation, and the question arises as to whether or not we are on the gold standard. Premier Bennett insists that we are, but it's not vitally important either way. Let New York discount the Canadian dollar—it is of more advantage to us than the placing of a premium upon it. It is the United States who has to buy outside her own territory if she wishes gold to remain precious metal.

At the moment London and New York are vying for financial leadership. Who wins?

Are Men Bold?

This column anticipated some criticism for agreeing with the Ontario lady of 102 summers who said, "You can't blame the men folk for being bold these days with the way the girls dress." I printed this observation two weeks ago, adding that, while the modern girl dressed sensibly, the remark was justified.

Criticisms which have reached me, ostensibly from the young ladies themselves, contained the surprising revelation that men are not bold. In fact, one girl was almost heartbroken about it. For her, bold men simply did not exist, and "how did you get that way?"

MARATHON SWIMMER STABBED

Anna Benoit, well-known marathon swimmer, residing in Toronto, was stabbed in the side with a large hunting knife, said by police to have been wielded by her trainer, Hernán Hunt, during a fit of jealousy. Hunt is under arrest on a charge of attempted murder. After stabbing her he said to have drunk a solution of bichloride of mercury and water. Hunt was placed under arrest at St. Joseph's Hospital by Detective Shields. His condition is not serious, the hospital reports.

Well, Lilluth, I must confess I'm a bit disappointed. If there are as many faint male hearts in Kelowna as you suggest the time is not far distant when the great big he-man of the house will be minding the baby while his wife is at the office. And his lady's not be fair.

Orchard City Largest

Kelowna, with its 4,600 people, is the largest city in the Okanagan Valley. This has advantages in that grants and appropriations are often based on population, but it also has its disadvantages. There is the danger of a centre being overloaded, of having more people than it can support. Obviously, in abnormal times, most centres, regardless of census figures, are burdened in this way. But these remarks are based upon normality, to which we hope to return some day.

If our population is to be taken care of it is our duty never to let the opportunity pass of encouraging new industries and the consequent increase in payrolls. Encourage everything but white-collar jobs. Encourage production from materials obtainable here. Despite all the ballyhoo, there are still good markets for necessary and meritorious commodities. The nation's trade is not at a standstill. The world is not as black as it's being painted.

The local Scot who sat on a prickly pear at Westbank found out it was not as tender as his native thistle. By his own embarrassing admission, it made him "disrobe."

Get That Goat!

This column is now eligible for membership in any fraternal order in existence. It is a goat rider extraordinary. It could write a treatise on goats. It could even become eloquent on goats in general, Chute Lake goats in particular. It might even get goats if it tried.

Up at Chute Lake Lodge the other day I heard a strange noise. Investigating, I found my friend the goat gnawing its midday meal from the side of the camp. A few minutes later Doug, espied that same unprincipled animal devouring the community soap (sure, we had soap) in goatly fashion. Well, Doug, gave chase and retrieved the choice morsel, after which the wounded lady amused herself by defiantly blowing bubbles.

It was Norm who discovered how to tame goats, but I am not at liberty to divulge the formula. All I can say is that if Norm patents the stuff and puts it on the market he should clean up. Its chief ingredient, I believe, was discovered by King Tut, who had himself pickled for posterity with it.

After riding the goats that Norma, tamed, with the moral support of Reg, Charlie, Peter and Jim, this column is all for getting goats.

he declared with a smile, for shortly afterward they followed his advice in the Old Country. Canada was off the gold standard too, despite what Premier Bennett had to say on the subject—the dollar was worth about 88½ cents—and the wilderness was now full of countries which had gone off gold.

U.S. And France Have Too Much Gold
A week before he started on his tour the United States had in her possession five billions in gold of the world's eleven, and France had about three billion. That left three billion for the remaining countries to work on, and the forces which located this gold were still working to drive gold into the United States and France. The end of the War left most nations heavily in debt, but France was the only Allied country which received more aid than it had to pay to the United States. The rest of the Allied nations were heavily indebted to America. Over a period of fifty years, counting principal and interest, they are expected to pay the United States some $22,000,000,000, or double the amount of the world's gold supply.

"All they have to do," said Mr. Sandwell dryly, "is to pay the eleven billions over to the States, get it back, and again pay it to the States, and the war debt is settled."

They were paying about a quarter-billion dollars per annum. When this agreement was made no statesman believed all this gold could be paid without setting to work unforeseen forces. Economists were cheerful people and they believed that gold would eventually reach those countries in need of it, but this would not work out against so tremendous a movement each year to one country. There was no way to get it back as the United States would not buy foreign goods, a habit she should by now see the necessity of changing. However, in relation to European countries, her geographical position was peculiar; she was a long way off, which made trading difficult. The situation was that there was a movement from Europe of a quarter of a billion dollars a year with no possibility of it being returned for goods or securities. The purchasing of securities, in any case, was merely a postponement of the evil day of reckoning as they would have to be paid in gold when due. From 1921 to 1924 the United States loaned much money, but the European nations were no longer desirous of selling securities nor was the United States anxious to buy. That was not the solution of the problem; purchase of European goods was more in line.

United States May Cancel War Debts
That the United States might eventually cancel the war debt, was the opinion of the speaker, who urged his hearers to help create public opinion in this respect. The whole trouble was that there was four billion dollars in gold not working as money. Of the five billion in the States, two and a half billion was not needed, and there was a billion or so out of work in France. The unemployment condition of gold forced the countries in need of it to place their commodities on the market for what they could get. That was why prices were down, and they would continue to go down as long as the United States and France collected war debts. They could not consume enough to offset the effect.

Was gold any longer a suitable measure of value for the transactions of the people? the speaker asked. Why have we kept it? Because we thought its punch and power would remain reasonably stable. The value of gold could only increase when withdrawn from use as money. Today we had the spectacle of a nation which could not dispossess itself of its gold. There was no necessity for the Canadian dollar to be valued at 22.32 grains of gold, an impossible monetary unit for any sensible country. It was borrowers who carried on the business of the world, who advanced wages to labour, who put money in commodities. With money rarer there was no possibility of getting money out of commodities. If the Canadian dollar could be allowed to fall off in relation to gold, it could go down little further. Our trade with Great Britain was being penalized because the dollar was valued too high in proportion to the pound sterling. Sterling, Mr. Sandwell said, had not yet adjusted itself, but the pound would not rise in gold value until the world's gold was distributed more so than now.

Stability Of Value Needed

It would not be immoral for Canada to declare the dollar not worth 22.32 grains of gold. Monetary contests say nothing of gold—they assure payment in lawful money or units of money, and the ideal unit should have the same power each year. Stability of value was what creditors wanted. For instance, a loan representing one thousand pounds of wheat three years ago could only be paid with two or three thousand bushels today, and bankruptcy was common because those loans could not be paid. Detachment of the unit of currency from specified weight in gold was needed.

There were many other aspects of the situation to which he had not the time to refer, said the speaker, and he could not begin to suggest the ramifications of international trade, but the nation whose currency was going down had the advantage of the nation whose currency was going up. That advantage was in international trade. Because of this fact, the British Empire has an important leverage on the United States.

Our B. C. Products window, featured for "B. C. Products Week," contained so many B. C. lines that it was not recognized by the judges of the local window competition as an exclusive B. C. Products production.

We bear the judges no malice, not the least. They have admitted their mistake, and we know their judgment was compatible with their knowledge of the matter in hand. However, what we set out to record is this—that it is simply surprising, to those who are in a position to observe, the lack of knowledge on the part of so many would-be loyal British Columbians regarding B. C. products. Our window, which we are leaving on view for another week, contains almost forty exclusive grocery lines that are made in this province and had space permitted we could have augmented this number by over forty more.

"Next year," the speaker declared, "you will either see the United States modify the war debt or herself go off the gold standard. The ability of the Canadian people to prevent the dollar rising further in purchasing power is the best assurance in three years there will be resumption of a reasonable level of business activity. Temporary difficulties are embarrassing, but the resumption of industrial activity will make us wonder why we hung on to the gold standard so long."

A vote of thanks was moved by Rev. A. K. McMinn, who referred to the fact that economists were a cheerful

Before the gathering dispersed, Mr. Black announced that on November 12th Miss Agnes McPhail, M.P., would be the speaker. Mr. H. T. Gussow, Dominion Botanist, the Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, and Mr. J. R. McLarty, of the Dominion Experimental Station, Summerland, are registered at the Royal Anne Hotel.

On Halloween, Saturday, October 31st, the annual children's party will be held in the Scout Hall. Announcement of the prizes to be awarded for the outstanding costumes will appear in next week's issue.

For the convenience of the children attending the Elementary School, a kitchen will be opened shortly for the purpose of serving soup and cocoa at the lunch hour. About one hundred pupils will be accommodated.

Dr. Donald Black, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Black, for a number of years a missionary in the Orient, addressed the Rotary Club at its regular weekly luncheon in the Royal Anne Hotel on Tuesday. He described conditions in the areas in which he served.

Very successful Harvest Home services were held at Winfield and at Oyama, on Sunday last. Rev. J. H. Young, pastor, was in charge of these services. The churches were nicely decorated with fruit, flowers and vegetables, which were later on donated to the Hospital.

Another full car-load of fruit and vegetables is rolling along toward Regina, having been collected together by the United Church, Winfield. This car was made up of unsaleable McIntosh and Delicious apples, besides some other varieties. The vegetables comprised a ton of No. 2 onions; potatoes, carrots, green tomatoes and pumpkins, cabbage and squash. Mention must be made of a case of home canned goods. The response in the district was most liberal, every one being anxious to contribute some share in this relief measure.

For several years past one or two scarlet runner vines have climbed the halliard of a radio mast situated at the back of The Courier office, just outside the editor's window. The mast is situated in a light well, which gets direct sunlight only in the late afternoon during July and August, yet the vines yearly make surprising growth in the short season available. The record previously was about nineteen feet, but this year all previous marks have been eclipsed. Two morning glory vines took a notion to beat the scarlet runners, and they were still blooming on Sunday, untouched by frost, having attained a total measured height of twenty-five feet, only a foot or two below the top of the adjoining wall of the L.D. Cafe building. What height the vines would reach under more favourable conditions of sunlight is matter for conjecture.

RAMON NOVARRO IN ORIENTAL SETTING

"Son of India" Is Replete With Gorgeous Colouring Of The East

"Son of India," with Ramon Novarro in the starring role and a supporting cast which includes Conrad Nagel, Marjorie Rameau, Madge Evans, C. Aubrey Smith and others, comes to the Paramount Theatre on Friday and Saturday. The story, based on the Marion Crawford novel, "Mr. Isaacs," places Novarro in an Oriental setting. The picture is replete with picturesque backgrounds, strange sights and unusual costumes, such scenes being faithfully reproduced as the streets and buildings of Bombay, India; with its quaint and colorful bazaars; the rugged mountain passes in which bandits carry on their nefarious trade; and the jungle scenes in which the tiger hunt and elephant stampede take place.

"The Last Parade"

Excitement, thrills, romance and drama are to be found in "The Last Parade," a Columbia picture which presents the highlights in the career of an overlord of the underworld, the leading character being portrayed by Jack Holt. The chief feminine role is played by Constance Cummings, who appeared in "The Criminal Code." The cast includes Tom Moore, Gaylord Pendleton, Robert Ellis and Edmund Breese. The action and the dialogue, right from the opening scene, takes on a swift pace that carries all the characters along in the dramatic sweep of the story. This film will be shown on Monday and Tuesday.

"Gold Dust Gertie"

Warner Bros. were on the right track to satisfy public demand when they decided to star Winnie Lightner, queen of slapstick, with Olson and Johnson as queen's fools, for the three can treat 'em rough and make 'em like it as nobody else can. The uproarious trio will be seen in "Gold Dust Gertie" on Wednesday and Thursday. Winnie and the famous pair of comics were put through and through the most breathless. They were ducked and half-drowned, they were given a fish bath, they were swatted over the head with vases and given one of the most thrilling speed-boat rides in motion picture history.

TRAPNESTING TAKES VERY LITTLE TIME

One of the strong arguments advanced against trapnesting individual hens to determine laying ability is the claim that considerable time is required in the operation.

During the past seven years the Experimental Station of the Dominion Department of Agriculture at Cap Rouge, Que., have made a special study of this important factor in poultry breeding, and they find that to trapnest a flock of 100 hens it takes an average of 8.3 minutes per day. This test includes a complete record of the time involved from the time of releasing the hen from the nest, picking up the egg, and re-setting the trap. As a matter of fact, it takes almost as much work and time to collect the eggs from the nest under ordinary conditions as it takes to gather eggs from a flock which is being trapnested.

In view of the accurate information with respect to the ability of the individual hen as an egg producer, the very little extra time it takes to operate the trapnests and keep records is well spent. It is only by using the trapnest that the farmer can have anything like an accurate indication of the real worth of the individual birds of his laying flock and where one has an objective increased production the trapnest is a sure means of rapid progress in this direction.

Painting a rosy picture of what the future held for fruit growers were also the purpose of their waste and cull fruit by distilling it, J. H. Engler, organizer of the B. C. Farmers' Co-operative Marketing Association, addressed a large meeting of fruit growers at Oliver recently. He blamed Vernon interests for trying to hog the granting of a distillery licence and assured the growers he had the promise of the government to grant the licence should he go to Victoria and show he had a membership of between five and six hundred in his organization. Premier Tolmie would, he said, grant licences for the sale of beer and wine in restaurants and places of amusement if the products comprised the beverages to be sold. He referred to other promises reputed to have been made by the government. The Penticton Herald, in which the account of the Oliver meeting appeared, says: "The Herald has been informed that the provincial government denies making any promises whatever to him (Mr. Engler) or giving him any assurances." The Courier was similarly advised some months ago.

Would-be safe crackers made an unsuccessful attempt to open the safe at the Mission store on Tuesday night. With the aid of an acetylene outfit, which they stole from Jones' machine shop, they did considerable damage to the safe but failed to get the door open. At the store, before leaving, they collected a quantity of goods, including watches and other articles.

Mr. A. J. Hughes attended the funeral last week at Rosedale of his brother, Mr. Claude A. Hughes, who was found dead in his bed in his residence at Kamloops on the morning of October 7th. Death was due to natural causes. The late Mr. Hughes, who was born in Port Garry 63 years ago, was a former C.N.R. conductor and was well known. Besides his brother, he is survived by his parents in Rosedale, and two brothers.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Mary Ann Hodder

On Tuesday, October 6th, there passed away at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William McDonald one of the early residents in the Rutland district in the person of Mrs. Mary Ann Hodder, at the ripe age of eighty-four years.

Born in Ireland, Mrs. Hodder came to Canada when two years old with her parents, who settled in Kent County, Ontario, where they shared the activities of pioneer life. She came west with her late husband nineteen years ago and settled in the Rutland district, where she continued to reside until her death. Her husband predeceased her by over seven years. She led an active life until two years ago, when failing health compelled her to give up many of her ordinary duties. In religion she was a lifelong member of the Methodist Church until 1925, when her denomination became incorporated in the United Church, in which she continued her membership with the same interest and loyalty that she had always manifested.

Mrs. Hodder's family consisted of two daughters, the late Mrs. Norman Leslie, of Kent County, Ont., and Mrs. William McDonald, with whom she made her home in recent years. Interment took place on Friday, Oct. 9th, in the Kelowna Cemetery, a short service, conducted by Rev. A. McMillan, being held at the residence. The beautiful floral tributes bespoke the kindly regard and respect in which Mrs. Hodder was held in the community. The pall bearers were Rev. C. A. Campbell, Messrs. W. T. Barber, W. H. Ford, J. Jensen, W. D. Rae and George Fletcher.

FIFTEENTH CENTENARY OF THE COUNCIL OF EPHESUS

(Contributed)

The Third General Council of the Church, composed of some two hundred bishops, assembled at Ephesus, June 22, A.D. 431, and was dissolved about the beginning of October in the same year. Summoned by Pope St. Celestine I, who appointed St. Cyril of Alexandria as his Legate, this Council condemned the subtle and fatal heresy of Nestorius, Patriarch of Constantinople.

Nestorius had taught that there were in Christ two distinct Persons, the Person of the Man Jesus, and the Person of the Eternal Word of God. From this it necessarily followed that Christ was divided, that there were, in fact, two Christs—one God and the other Man. It followed, too, that the Blessed Virgin Mary could not rightly be called the Mother of God but only the Mother of the Man—Christ.

The error of Nestorius was condemned in these words: "If anyone will not confess that Emmanuel is True God and that consequently the Blessed is the Mother of God, since she gave birth to the flesh, let him be anathema." The Council finally gave the solemn warning: "Should any man not acknowledge that Mary is the Mother of God, let him know that he is cut off from the Divinity."

This year the Church celebrated with great solemnity the fifteenth centenary of this great Council, and in all dioceses of the world a Tridium was held in honour of the Blessed Virgin Mary. Here in Kelowna, at the Parish Church of the Immaculate Conception, a Tridium was held, commencing last Friday, Oct. 9th, and ending on Sunday afternoon, with a solemn procession and benediction of the Blessed Sacrament.

On Sunday afternoon, the parishioners, numbering about eight hundred, headed by cross bearer and acolytes, marched from the Church to the Convent grounds. Following the cross bearer were the boys, the Catholic Women's League, Young People's, Knights of Columbus, statue of the Blessed Virgin Mary, men of the Parish, Reverend Father Bulger, Guard of Honour. Preceding the statue of the Blessed Virgin were tiny flower girls, who spread flowers along the route of the procession. During the march hymns were sung in honour of the occasion.

At the Convent House, a shrine had been built ready to receive the statue of our Blessed Lady, and whilst the congregation sang "Bring flowers of the rarest" Miss Marie Carton placed a crown on the statue.

The Reverend Father Bulger, a visiting priest from Australia, delivered a very impressive address from the shrine, and in masterly fashion drew our Blessed Lady which would assist us one and all in our daily lives.

The procession then reformed and returned to the Church, where Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament took place. The Church being packed to its uttermost, many had to remain outside, but on the benches they were able to receive the Blessing of their Divine Lord, for to all, it had been a wonderful and edifying time.

LUTHERAN PASTORS MEET IN CONFERENCE

Sessions At Vernon Occupy Three Days Of Last Week

(Contributed)

The Pastoral Conference of the Missouri Synod of the Lutheran Church met in session from the 8th to the 10th of October in St. John's Lutheran Church, in Vernon. The three circuits were represented by their pastors: the Nelson Circuit by the Rev. C. Janzow, First Vice-President of the Alberta-B.C. District and chairman of the B.C. Conference; the Rev. E. Biberdorf, of Trail, and Mr. Hamann, of the Nelson Parochial School; the Okanagan Circuit by the Rev. C. Potenhauer, of Vernon; the Rev. E. Potenhauer, of Kamloops, and the Rev. Wm. L. Zersen, of Kelowna; the Vancouver Circuit by the Rev. R. F. Holtzen, of Vancouver, and the Rev. A. H. Haake, of New Westminster, secretary of the B.C. Conference.

The Rev. C. Thies, of Calgary, secretary of the Alberta-B.C. Mission Board and Director of Missions in the district, was welcomed by the Conference. He encouraged the Conference, in view of the splendid progress made throughout the district, not to lose faith as a result of these hard times of depression, but to continue steadfastly in the work guided and upheld by the word of Him whose promises are sure and cannot fail.

EAST KELOWNA

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Powell and family are leaving for a trip to the Old Country via the Panama Canal, sailing about the 17th inst from Vancouver. Mr. and Mrs. McTavish will occupy their house during their absence. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Armstrong are also leaving for the Old Country and travelling by the same route.

An unfortunate accident happened to Mr. Holland, while working for the District last week, when in the course of his work a piece of steel lodged in his eye. On being taken to the hospital, it was found that this had caused a serious injury but, after treatment, it is hoped to save the sight of the eye.

A special meeting of the East Kelowna Women's Institute was held on Tuesday, October 13th, at 7.30 p.m., the business being to elect a delegate for the forthcoming conference in Kereenos. As none of the Directors were able to go, Mrs. F. Thorneloe will attend as a representative of the Institute.

Arrangements were also made to hold a Children's Halloween Party. There will be prizes for the best couple, the best boy and best girl over 12 and the best boy and best girl under 12. Admission for school children will be a nominal sum, but parents are asked to be good enough to send a cake. The committee for this event is Mesdames Ferguson, Miller, Moodie, Woodd and Thorneloe.

A letter was read from the convenor of the Freight Rates Commission enclosing a resolution protesting against the "unfair discrimination of Canadian railways against Canadians and Canadian industries." This brings to members' notice one fact that wheat from Canadian prairies can be laid down for use in China or Great Britain cheaper than in south-western British Columbia. It is to be hoped that members will be ready to vote on this anomaly at the next meeting. If endorsed by Institutes, the resolution will be forwarded to the Minister of Railways and to the Secretary of the Board of Railway Commissioners.

Another letter was read from the Superintendent of Women's Institutes, stating that a competition has been arranged for members of all B. C. Institutes, by the Canadian Products Group of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce. Three prizes are offered for the best essays on "Why I should buy Canadian products." All information on this can be obtained from our local secretary, Mrs. Grace Miller.

The Harvest Festival service will be held on Sunday next. Donations of fruit, etc., to be left at the School before two o'clock on Saturday, and after the service this will be sent to the Hospital.

WESTBANK

Mr. George Brown arrived from Nelson to spend the week-end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Washington Brown.

Mr. R. L. Currie, of Westbank Hotel, had a slight stroke on Sunday. He is now resting quietly.

The Ladies' Aid of the United Church held a sale of home cookery and a tea on Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. D. A. Currie. A most successful afternoon was spent both socially and financially.

Miss Grace Hewlett relieved Miss Mossy in Division 2 at the School last week. It was old times come back and the children were pleased to see Miss Hewlett once again. Miss Mossy is now well again and back at work with her usual vim.

On Thursday night Mr. Scott, of Peachland, gave a display of magic lantern pictures of Africa. He was assisted by Messrs. Farley B. Dickenson, Principal of Westbank Townsite School, and Bowers, of Peachland. Quite a large number of children and parents were present and were most interested.

On Monday night the burglars again visited Westbank. Entering the Co-operative Association's packing house, they hacked off the dial of the safe with an axe, but could not open it. They threw all the papers about and stole a few personal belongings of the Manager, Mr. M. J. de Puyffer. They also paid attention to the Post Office, which was ransacked in every corner but nothing stolen except the contents of a W. A. thanksoffering mite box. The money box in the telephone pay station was also taken. The police were promptly on the scene and examined everything for clues.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

FATHER McINTYRE SAYS FAREWELL
Williams Lake, B.C.,
October 9th, 1931.

The Editor,
Kelowna Courier.

Dear Sir,
When preparing recently to leave Kelowna, a long chain of adverse circumstances combined to prevent my saying even "Good-bye" to most of my parishioners and friends.

I desire here and now to make amends as far as this is possible. Especially do I wish to thank in general all those within and without the parish of the Immaculate Conception who so spontaneously and forcibly, by word and deed, expressed their appreciation of my efforts for the general good of society in the particular care of souls in your fair city.

In particular I desire to thank most kindly good Mayor Rattenbury and Council for their kindly consideration of my case and their generosity in service toward me personally, as well as all others who directly or indirectly rendered me service on the occasion above referred to.

I thank from the depths of my heart
the Catholics of Kelowna, in general and particular, for their loyalty to me as their pastor and friend. Never had they been more true, zealous and dependable than when the news of my going spread abroad. As for the children, one and all they excelled. May God bless them and you.

EVERYTHING TO BE ROSY UNDER SOCIALISM

1230 13th Avenue,
New Westminster, B.C.,
October 9th, 1931.

To the Editor,
Kelowna Courier.

Dear Sir,
In his recent tour throughout the province Mr. Pattullo emphasized the lack of need for a third political party.
We—the Independent Labour Party—are thoroughly in accord with him.
There is no need, now, for more than two parties, for the differences between Liberal and Conservative are so vague and unimportant as only to be discerned with a magnifying glass and even then found to be superficial and not fundamental. Incidentally, the Beauharnois graft revelations prove this but, more outstanding, are the recent political developments in the Old Country, where the old political parties have formed a coalition with the renegade labour representatives for the purpose of endeavouring to bolster up a collapsing social and industrial system.

Now that the socialist movement has reached such dimensions as to be a world-wide factor in society—challenging the very foundations thereof—and, consequently, the various institutions which have developed therein, logically those parties which are primarily concerned with maintaining the present social system, and also their group and personal well-being, must get together as one to resist the challenge and power of the socialist movement.

Capitalism had a social function to perform which was to develop industry from individual handicraft into highly mechanized and organized social units; to break down the isolation of local or even national groups and develop an interdependent internationalism; to overcome natural barriers by ever growing trade relations and by using cable, telephone and radio to communicate in an instant between ends of the earth and to encircle the earth in a few days by airplane. But always the urge of feverish competition with the sole incentive of personal profit.

Capitalism is no longer beneficial to society and must inevitably give place to a social system that will utilize man's almost limitless ability to transform natural resources into the necessities and comforts of life—not, as now, for the benefit of a few but for society as a whole.

Only a socialistic social system will operate upon the principle of production for use, not for profit. Only socialism will overcome and prevent unemployment, starvation in the midst of plenty and youths and aged persons working while those in the prime of life are idle. Only socialism will abolish a parasite capitalist class and its concomitant, an exploited and degraded working class.

Only socialism will refuse to devote the bulk of the proceeds of present and future labour to pay the expenses and profits of past wars and preparations for future ones. This revolutionary change in society must take place if humanity is to progress to a higher status. If the rising generation is to see and realize the opportunity of a life worth living, we, who are responsible for their existence, must strive to the utmost of our ability to organize those who already realize the necessity for a fundamental economic change in society and then proceed to educate others to the possibilities inherent within a cooperative commonwealth.

Socialism is a promise, not a menace. To organize and educate is the function of the I. L. P. and success along these lines will force the old line political parties into one group where they belong.

Yours sincerely,
E. WINCH,
Provincial Organizer, I. L. P.

A NEW PLAN FOR MARKETING PRODUCE

Okanagan Mission, B.C.,
October 13, 1931.

To the Editor,
Kelowna Courier.

Sir,
I have read with much interest a plan for the control and marketing of fruit and vegetables in the last number of the Vernon News over the signature of Mr. Godfrey-Isaacs.

I should like to see the same article published in all the valley papers. The scheme has undoubtedly many good features and is the genesis of a possible plan to save the fruit and vegetable industry. As growers we have been in bad case many times, but never have we been faced with such prospects of utter disaster than now.

This year has seen several new shippers spring up; these are but a handful to those who will start business next season, if some form of grower control is not brought about.

The remedy is, and always has been in the growers' hands. Let us get together and try to save what, to many of us, has been a lifetime's work.

Yours truly,
W. D. WALKER.

Then there was the Scotsman who was so close he got slapped.

EXPERIMENTS IN POULTRY INFLUENCE FARM PRODUCTS

(Experimental Farms Note)

Experiments in poultry husbandry have resulted in tremendous saving and increased profits to the poultry keepers of Canada. Just how great this saving is, and what the increased profits are, it is impossible to accurately estimate, but some idea may be gained in considering a few of the outstanding features on which experimental work has made great changes.

Feeding: Experimental work has demonstrated that by the use of cod liver oil the difficulty of raising early chicks or raising chicks in confinement has been eliminated. The old trouble of leg weakness in the laying stock during periods of heavy production under confined winter conditions has also disappeared since the introduction of cod liver oil into the ration.

Experiments have demonstrated that cod liver oil and alfalfa fed to the breeding stock have resulted in better fertility and hatchability of the eggs and stronger chicks.

Work conducted on the Experimental Farms over a five year period has demonstrated that barley fed in conjunction with cod liver oil is equally as efficient as corn in the poultry ration.
As corn is very largely an imported feed, and as it is very considerably higher in price, the saving to the country resulting from the substitution of barley for corn is very considerable.

The adoption of the hopper system of chick feeding as used and advocated by the Experimental Farms saves at least 75 per cent of the time used in the system formerly in vogue.

These are but a few of the recent changes in feeding methods that have meant tremendous savings to the industry.

Disease: On the Central Experimental Farm there was for the years 1923-24-25 an average chick mortality of 24.7 per cent. Testing for pullorum disease was inaugurated in the fall of 1925 and all reacting birds were disposed of.
The year following the mortality had dropped to 10.8 per cent and with con-

B. C. ANNUAL WINTER FAIR AT VANCOUVER

Date Set This Year From Nov. 30th
To Dec. 3rd

British Columbia's great annual utility and marketing event, the winter fair, will be staged at the Vancouver Exhibition grounds from November 30 to December 3 this year. The opening day is a Monday, thus giving exhibitors a chance to set up and settle down over the week end, and the closing day is a Thursday, which will enable all sales to be carried out and deliveries made before the end of the week.

The Vancouver Exhibition Association has made arrangements with buyers in the city to purchase exhibits following the judging in the various departments. Classes have been provided for heavy horses, beef cattle, including boys' and girls' competitions, market and breeding swine. Poultry, live and dressed will be shown, and impressive classifications have also been compiled for the national apple show, seed and potato fairs. Building up of markets in Vancouver for the products of our own province is the aim of the Exhibition Association, and a great medium has been provided in the winter fair. Every district in the province is urged to take advantage of this marketing medium.
Cheap fares will be in effect on all railroads.

Neighbourhood gossip is the most entertaining and the most perilous form of news reporting.

Continued yearly testing the mortality has decreased until in 1930 it had dropped to 3.7 per cent, a saving in chick mortality of 21 per cent. If this Farm is taken as a criterion of conditions on the farms of Canada, the saving by the general adoption of pullorum testing throughout the country would, conservatively estimated, undoubtedly amount to between two and three millions of dollars, as there are, roughly speaking, upwards of 100,000,000 chicks hatched in Canada each year.

Breeding: Through the breeding policies adopted and fostered by the Government of Canada, there have also been vast sums made or saved for the people of this country. Through the use of sires of high production lines, and the testing and pedigreeing of their offspring, combined with a better knowledge of feeding and handling them, as demonstrated by experimental work, the annual production is being gradually increased.

In the year 1919-20 the average production of the 1610 birds in the Canadian Egg Laying Contests was 122.5 eggs, whereas each year there has been a steady increase until in 1929-30 the production had increased to an average of 178.1 eggs for the 4,320 birds then in the Contest, an increase of 55.6 eggs per bird.

As there are upwards of 50,000,000 hens in Canada, if this represents a fair increase for the hens throughout the country, it means an increase in production of 278,000,000 eggs, which, valued even at the low price of a cent a piece, represents a value through increased production of $2,780,000.
These figures, touching as they do only a very few of the phases of investigational work, and although very conservative, indicate rather than show what a tremendous value Canada is getting for the money she is spending on research work in poultry husbandry.

BASKETBALL

Encouraging Attendance At Annual Meeting

The annual general meeting of the Kelowna Basketball Association was held at Poole's Bakery Tea Room on Thursday, October 8th. The meeting was preceded by a supper at which some thirty-five fans and players turned up. This is a considerable increase over the past few years—thanks to the fair sex—they turned out in great numbers.

Present indications point to a very excellent basketball season with the outlook for at least four championship teams.

Reports Of Officers

The first business on the agenda was the President's report, given by W. M. Fraser. He first noted the success of the club during the past season, not so much from a financial standpoint as from the success attained by our local teams for championship honours. He stressed the point of having younger players coming along so as to provide more and stronger teams for the future. In this connection he was very pleased to know that the City League had more than one hundred players participating this season. He was sure all the teams would again keep Kelowna to the fore this season as they had in previous years.

In closing, "Monty" spoke of the pleasure it had given him to work with an executive who had so ably assisted him during the season. Especially he thanked the Secretary, Mr. C. M. DeMara, and the Treasurer, Mr. W. Carruthers, for their splendid work.

The Secretary's report was then read by Chas. DeMara and adopted. He spoke of the success the teams had attained during the past season, and also the large increase in games over the preceding year, especially those with Coast teams. He thought the Coast teams visiting here was one of the best means the Interior locals had of testing their strength and preparing themselves for the play-offs.

The Treasurer's report of W. R. Carruthers was read and adopted.

"Bill" reviewed the finances of the club and said he was sure everything possible had been done by the executive to keep the club from a deficit of about $70.00 on the year's operations.

"Turk" Lewis Reviews Past Season And Future Prospects
V. D. Lewis was asked to say a few words regarding the teams and the prospects for the coming season. He said all the teams did very well last year, and he felt sure they would all do excellently again this year. At the first of the season the club had only two teams, but later on took over the Intermediate Girls team from the United Church. This team moved up to Senior B division, and did the unexpected, viz., winning the Interior championship on the local floor, after a very thrilling battle with Trail. The Intermediate A boys won the Interior championship, but lost out to the Young Adanacs of New Westminster in the semi-final for the B. C. championship in one of the best games played on any Interior floor.

The Senior B did not fare so well, but got as far as being in the final for the Interior championship and lost to Trail for this honour. However, the boys figured on reversing things this season. The Senior C team was organized at the latter end of the season, and had some good games, but were put out of the playoffs by Rutland. In closing his remarks, "Turk" said that this season's prospects looked very good, all teams being intact from last year, also there were a number of new players available, so Kelowna should have four very fine teams, viz., Senior ladies, Senior B men, Intermediate A boys and Senior C men.

Election Of Officers

The election of officers resulted in the following being chosen to guide the destinies of the club during the coming season, 1931-32:

Hon. Presidents: W. B. M. Calder, Dr. J. E. Wright, K. Maclaren and G. Rowell. Hon. Vice-Presidents: W. Spears, Mrs. J. Ladd, Geo. Tutt. President: W. M. Fraser, re-elected; Vice-President: Chester Owen, re-elected; Secretary: C. M. DeMara, re-elected; Treasurer: H. Weatherill; Committee of four, consisting of Mrs. V. Lewis, Miss B. Carruthers, Roy Hunt and W. R. Carruthers, the last two being re-elected.

A vote of thanks was passed to Mr. A. D. Weddell for his excellent work as auditor. He was re-elected for the coming season.

It is hoped to start the regular practices this week, as both the Senior Ladies and Senior B men will be all probably make a trip to Trail at the end of the month.

Opening Games

The City League opened the season on Monday night last with three men's games. The first game between the Rowing Club and Bankers resulted in more or less of a runaway for the Rowing Club to the tune of 26-9. Don Poole had the distinction of scoring the first field basket of the season on a nice side shot from close in.

The next game was a real battle, Glenmore and Morrison Hardware Co. having a very hard time to decide who was going to win. At half time the score was 6-6. After the interval both teams battled on even terms till the last five minutes, when Glenmore sank two long shots to run out winner 17-12.

The last game was fought between the High School and a pick up team. No score was kept, but it was rumoured that High School won quite easily. It looks like some real close games are in the offing when the various teams meet.

LEADING FIGURES IN BASEBALL CLASSIC

After running a neck-and-neck race for the honours, the world's baseball team was won on Saturday last by the St. Louis Cardinals, who took the old game of the series from the Philadelphia Athletics. Above is one of the highlights of the second game won by the Cardinals. Connie Mack, manager of the Athletics, and Gabby Street, manager of the Cardinals, are shaking hands.

GOLF

Mrs. H. L. Bryce Wins Ladies' Local Championship

In the final round for the Collett Cup, emblematic of the ladies championship of the Kelowna Golf Club, Mrs. H. L. Bryce won the coveted trophy and the championship. Mrs. H. V. Craig two and one. Followed by a large gallery on an ideal day, the deciding round was played on Tuesday.

Mrs. Maclaren, Captain of the ladies section of the Club, won the monthly medal round on Saturday afternoon with a net score of 78.

The final round of the Hunt Cup handicap competition will be staged this week, when Mrs. Collett will meet Mrs. Craig.

The Captain's Cup event is progressing in the second round.

The first round of the Crawford Cup (two-ball foursomes) competitions will be completed this week.

A hidden hole competition will take place on the links on Saturday next, ladies day.

VOLLEYBALL

Play Began For Season Last Week

The popular game of volleyball opened for the winter season at the Scout Hall last week, when the newly organized Scout Hall Volleyball Club started play with three teams. They will meet Monday, Wednesday and Friday of each week. Any one wishing to join this club should get in touch with the Secretary, L. DaFonseca, at the Royal Anne Hotel. A. L. Cross, of Rutland, is chairman.

The City Volleyball League, which was very active last season, is preparing for another busy year. At a meeting held in the United Church gymnasium last week, officers for the year were elected and an executive representative of each team was appointed. They are as follows: Chairman, Harry Bowser; Secretary-Treasurer, Ed. Jacoby; Executive: Norm DeHart, Gyro Club; George Morrow, I.O.O.F.; C. J. Frederickson, Teachers; E. Jacoby, Clerks; A. E. Bostock, S.O.E.; W. Spear, K.G.E.; W. Brown, United Church; Tom Griffith, Business Men; J. Henniker, Scouts.

The schedule of play will be drawn up shortly by the executive. The league will meet in the United Church Gym on Monday evening next for a preliminary work out and to give instructions to those who are not familiar with the rules of the game.

GLENMORE

Friends will be glad to know that news to hand on Monday tells of the arrival in Rochester of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Reed with Stanley, who stood the journey as well as could be expected. Relatives are anxiously awaiting later news.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. J. Clark (nee Erica Seeley) on the arrival of their daughter on Monday.

We are glad to know that Harry Redman who some weeks back received serious injuries through the explosion of a detonating cap has one eye saved and there is still hope that the sight of the other may also be saved.

Glenmore ranchers are getting together a quantity of goods to send with the Rutland people in the car going to relieve and help on the prairies.

Badminton may be discontinued at Summerland this season for want of a building in which to pursue this indoor sport. The old gymnasium, which was used previously, has been sold, and the new owners are not willing to rent it.

HOLIDAY IS LUCKY FOR HUNTERS AND ANGLERS

Fine Baskets Landed And Deer Brought Down

Hunters and fishermen were out in force over the week-end and holiday. Popular fishing grounds were Chute Lake, Arthur Lake, Beaver Lake, Woods Lake, Adams River and Little River, while hunters stalked big game in these and other areas. It is reported that Woods Lake trout will take anything in the line of lures, and any one wishing to salt down fish for the winter should try their luck on that pond.

Dan Hardy and George Day, who with Hugh Kennedy and Dan Hill spent the week-end at Chute Lake, each accounted for a buck. One was a three-point, the other a two.

Norm DeHart, irresistible fly caster, and Rex Rutherford, who handles a mean pair of oars and wields a wicked rod, fished a fine basket of trout from Chute Lake during the long week-end. Included in this party, which failed to yield results as a hunting expedition, were Doug Kerr, Peter King, Charlie Kirkby, Jim Logie and Russ Ray. They stayed at the lodge and had a thoroughly enjoyable outing.

Bill Carruthers caught the largest fish of the week at Arthur Lake where he and Doc Day put up for the week-end at Col. Carey's camp. Bill's trout tipped the scales at 10 pounds.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Spurrier spent a couple of days at Little River, where they found the fishing excellent, catching the limit on both days. Mrs. Spurrier caught the largest ones.

Charlie Hawes and family visited Adams River over the week-end and found the fly fishing very good.

C. J. Frederickson and party made nice catches at Beaver Lake over the holiday.

Pheasant shooting begins on Saturday morning.

Young wife: "Oh, I'm so miserable. My husband has been out all evening and I haven't the faintest idea where he is."

Experienced friend: "My dear, you mustn't worry. You'd probably be twice as miserable if you did know."

or entered the basket. This applies of course, only to free throws where the ball would ordinarily be in play after the shot. If the ball does not enter the basket, or touch the ring or backboard, it is to be awarded to the opponent of the free-thrower at a point on the side lines.

Blocking took up a great deal of the Joint Basketball Rules Committee's time, and a special committee has been appointed to prepare an article discussing the different phases, with diagrams and photographs showing the blocking that is illegal and "screening," which is often legal.

There is also a movement towards reducing the number of free throws, which take up considerable time. It is proposed, but not confirmed, that certain personal fouls be merely charged with a personal foul against the offender and no free throw given. Something of this nature will doubtless appear in next year's rules.

Players should cut out these comments and retain them until the official rule books are available.
